

INTRODUCTION

The TWIF Executive takes great pleasure in providing this updated publication (updated version dated August 2022) which contains a wide range of information on the sport of tug of war as we think most people will require.

You will also find a short history of our sport which goes back to ancient times, including the more modern era of participation in our sport. As a sport we have come through many phases including the early 1900's which encompassed participation in no less than five Olympic Games. Not too many people outside tug of war realize that. The re-admission into the Olympic programme remains our ultimate objective.

For those who are thinking about joining or even starting a team or club, you will find links on our web-site www.tugofwar-twif.org to those who will be able to assist you further. Likewise, if you live in a country where tug of war is already practised but there is not already an organized structure or Association you will find information in this booklet which should be helpful to you start your own club or to link into existing initiatives. The Tug of War International Federation officials listed within will welcome any contact and will gladly assist in any way possible with appropriate advice.

Competitors and officials will be interested in the updated rules for competition and, hopefully, in the wealth of other information contained within these pages.

We trust that everybody reading this booklet may you find it a useful resource and a means of furthering their enjoyment of what we consider a wonderful sport.

ANTON RABE

President: TWIF

HISTORY OF TUG OF WAR

Ancient origin

There is no specific time and place to pinpoint the origin of Tug of War. The contest of pulling on the rope originates from ancient ceremonies and cults, which are found all over the world Eg. Egypt, Burma, India, Borneo, Japan, Korea, Hawaii and South America. The ancient Tug of War was performed in various styles. In Afghanistan, teams used a wooden stake instead of a rope to pull. In Korea, children clasped their arms around each other's waists to form a living Tug of War chain. Team captains must have had a very strong grip linking the teams together with their hands. Tug of War was not only a team sport; in several countries a man to man version of Tug of War existed. The Canadian Eskimos still have a Tug of War contest known as "arsaaraq". It's a Tug of War contest with the pullers sitting on the ground, using a short rope. The one who pulls his opponent over from his seated position is the winner.

Tug of War as sport contest

Later, Tug of War became a pure contest of physical strength. In Greece, the cradle of the ancient Olympic Games, Tug of War sport around 500 BC was practised by athletes either as a competitive sport or as an exercise in the physical training for other sports. In Western Europe evidence of Tug of War is found in the year 1000 AC, in the stories of the heroic champions of Scandinavia and Germany, who participated in the so called "kräftige spiele" (power games). The Tug of War sport featured in competitions at the courts of the Chinese Emperors, as well as in Mongolia and Turkey. In the 15th century Tug of War was a popular contest at the tournaments in the French chateaux and in competitions in Great Britain.

Olympic period

The Tug of War sport featured in the Olympic Games from 1900 to 1920. The medal winners during that period were;

Year	Venue	Gold	Silver	Bronze
1900	Paris	Sweden	USA	France
1904	St. Louis	USA	USA	USA
1908	London	Great Britain	Great Britain	Great Britain
1912	Stockholm	Sweden	Great Britain
1920	Antwerp	Great Britain	Netherlands	Belgium

In 1920 the IOC took a decision to reduce the number of participants of the Olympic Games and for that reason deleted a number of team sports from the programme, including Tug of War. In 1999 TWIF received provisional IOC recognition, which was confirmed in 2002 for tug of war to again be formally recognized in accordance with rule 29 of the Olympic Charter.

HISTORY OF TUG OF WAR

National Tug of War Associations

The discontinuation of Tug of War as an Olympic discipline fortunately did not put an end to the Tug of War sport. All over the world Tug of War remained a popular sports activity. Within the Athletic Associations, Tug of War was still an athletic discipline and on sport festivals Tug of War was a popular inter-village competition. Within National Athletic Associations the Tug of War discipline, being a non-Olympic discipline, did not have the first priority. The Tug of War teams therefore felt the need to establish a separate and independent organization for the Tug of War sport. The oldest national association in Tug of War is the Svenska Dragkamp Förbundet, the Swedish Tug of War Association, founded in 1933. The example of Sweden was followed by other countries; in 1958 by the Tug of War Association of Great Britain and one year later, in 1959, by the Netherlands Tug of War Association.

Foundation of TWIF

After Tug of War was no longer on the programme of the Olympic Games, the opportunity to participate in international competitions had disappeared. With the foundation of National Tug of War Associations, this need for international competition however remained a high priority. The initiative to form an international federation was taken in 1960 by George Hutton of the Great Britain Association. In co-operation with representatives from the Swedish Association, the idea was brought into reality.

TWIF Competitions

The first international competition of the new federation was staged at the Baltic Games in 1964 (Malmö, Sweden). The Tug of War International Federation, TWIF, participated with four countries; Great Britain, Sweden, Netherlands and Denmark. After the international competition in the Baltic Games, TWIF organised in 1965 its first European Championship in Crystal Palace, London, Great Britain. From that year on, with regular intervals, European Championships were staged until 1975, when countries from outside Europe affiliated to TWIF, resulting in the first World Championship in the Netherlands. Currently TWIF organises World Championships in both outdoor and indoor every two years. Continental Championships are organised in the intervening years.

HISTORY OF TUG OF WAR

HISTORY OF TUG OF WAR

TWIF Recognised by IOC/Affiliation

In July 1999 TWIF was provisionally recognized by the International Olympic Committee.

During the 113th Session of the International Olympic Committee in Salt Lake City, USA from 4 – 6 February 2002, TWIF has been granted formal recognition by the IOC pursuant to rule 29 of the Olympic Charter.

TWIF also have membership with the IWGA (International World Games Association) and ARISF (Association of IOC Recognized International Sports Federations).

INTERNATIONAL TUG OF WAR FEDERATION

Management of the Tug of War sport

The organizational structure of the Tug of War International Federation (TWIF) is not a complex set-up. The central point is the Congress with administration by an executive body, the Executive Committee comprising of 5 members. The main activity of the Executive Committee is focused on the technical aspects of the organization of international competitions and the global development of the sport. Managerial aspects such as budgeting and planning however are becoming more and more important, in particular the promotion and the public relations of the sport, as well as compliance with the anti-doping requirements of the WADA and the IOC.

TWIF Congress

TWIF is an assembly of national Tug of War Associations. The highest authority in the TWIF therefore is the Annual Congress. TWIF Congress is the meeting of all affiliated members associations of TWIF in good standing. The TWIF Congress elects the TWIF Executive Committee and ratifies the appointment of Commissions and Committees from time to time.

TWIF Executive Committee

The Executive Committee is the administrative and management body of TWIF. It manages all TWIF affairs and represents TWIF in international organizations it is affiliated to.

TWIF Commissions

To assist the Executive Committee in the discharge of its work, TWIF has appointed five Commissions and two advisors.

- Technical and Athletes Commission
- Medical / Doping Commission
- PR and Promotion Commission
- TUE (Therapeutic Use Exemption) Commission
- Appeals Commission
- ICT Information Technology Advisor
- Legal Advisor

NATIONAL TUG OF WAR ORGANIZATIONS

Recognition by National Sports organizations

A national Tug of War Association needs to be recognized by its National Olympic Committee or National Sports Organisation as a requirement for affiliation to TWIF. As a newcomer in the Tug of War sport, the relation between the Tug of War Association and the national sport administrations is very important for the development of a national Tug of War organization. If required TWIF will assist in achieving the required contacts.

Organisation structure

The management structure in the affiliated member associations of TWIF varies widely. There is however one particular similarity in the structure of the Tug of War Associations being pre-eminently a team sport, so the Tug of War Associations are primarily Assemblies of Clubs and/or Regional structures.

General Meeting of Clubs

The General Meeting of clubs is the highest authority in a national association. In some countries the association is subdivided in regions or districts, depending on the number of affiliated clubs and the geographic situation. A President or Chairman heads the national Tug of War Association. The Annual General Meeting elects the Executive Committee, including the Chairman or President.

Executive Committee of National Associations

Management of the daily affairs of the Tug of War sport is done by the respective Executive Committees, when required assisted by Commissions. These Commissions are established by the Executive Committees to deal with specific items such as: Competitions, Judging and Recording, Training courses and Public Relations. Regional Committees, where applicable, are in charge of the daily affairs of the regions or districts.

National Council

Some Associations have formed a Council with representatives from the Regional Committees, the Commissions and the Executive Committee. Council Meetings take place annually as required and deal mainly with the general policy of the Tug of War sport in the country, while the Executive Committee meetings deal with the day to day affairs of the Tug of War Association.

NATIONAL STRUCTURE OF SPORT ORGANIZATION

National sport structures

The organization of the sport in the various countries is not identical; mostly three major administrations are involved;

- National Olympic Committee
- National Controlling Sports organization
- Department of Sport/Recreation (Government)

National Olympic Committee (NOC)

All countries have a National Olympic Committee (NOC). Since TWIF has been granted Olympic Recognition, several National Olympic Committees (NOC's) have recognized the National Tug of War Associations in their respective countries. However, as it is up to the NOC's to recognise a national association and not all NOC's have as yet accepted or acknowledged the national tug of war association. The Association of National Olympic Committees (ANOC) of the IOC has however formally invited the NOC's to recognise the national associations of Olympic Recognised Sport Federations.

National Controlling Sports organization

In most countries the national sport is managed by a non-government "umbrella" organization. These non-government sports organizations have different names in the various countries, but are generally known as the National Controlling Sports organizations. There is a trend that the national controlling sports organizations are co-operating - or even merging with the NOC's.

Affiliation to national sports organization

The affiliation to the National Controlling Sport Body is of particular importance for a national Tug of War Association in order to become eligible for financial support from these organizations. However, the significance of affiliation is not limited to the financial assistance only, the know-how of the national sports body is of great value to the management of national Tug of War associations.

Support from Department of Sport (Ministry of Sport)

In some countries the Ministry of Sport supports the sport either directly or renders financial support via the National Controlling Sports organization. In some countries regional and/or local authorities financially support the sport on regional or club level, especially through the provision of sports facilities and in the assistance to youth sport activities.

12 PULLING POSITION

With the exception of the Anchor, every pulling member shall hold the rope with both bare hands by the ordinary grip, i.e. the palms of both hands facing up, and the rope shall pass between the body and the upper part of the arm. For hold of Anchor see Rule 13.

The Anchor shall then grip the standing part of the rope by the ordinary grip; i.e. the palms of both hands facing up, with both arms extended forward.

The Anchor is allowed to keep the rope below the level of the protective clothing and contact with the belt for safety considerations will not constitute a Lock.

The judge will make the coach aware of his/her plan to give a no pull by pointing at his/her watch and if no activity starts, a no pull will follow. The pull will be restarted, and will continue for this match, on either new or less broken ground in the immediate proximity of the original pulling lane.
